

LyX 2.0.5.1 released

Written by Stefan Kottwitz

Wednesday, 09 January 2013 08:26

The version 2.0.5.1 of LyX has been released. It is a service update to 2.0.5 and fixes a bug regarding using classes which require babel.

In previous versions, the babel package was not loaded for English-only documents. Since it turned out that some classes, such as scrlltr2, require babel though, it will now be loaded in any case. For further information and download visit:

- the announcement ,
- the LyX News ,
- the LyX Homepage ,
- the download area with binaries and complete sources.